Failing Health Cited As Justice's Reason For Stepping Down

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)-President Kennedy today named Undersecretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz to succeed Supreme Court Justice-designate Arthur J. Goldberg as secretary of labor.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Ailing Felix Frankfurter, a legal legend in his own lifetime, has handed down a final, sorrowful decision as a Supreme Court justice: to retire rather than attempt to carry on at a faltering pace. President Kennedy immediately chose Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg to succeed the wiry, waspish little man with a big mind and a flair for piercing questions who had served on the nation's highest court for 23 years. And the White House said a successor to Goldberg would be named promptly, too.

Goldberg's top assistant, Under secretary W. Willard Wirtz, reportedly was on the list of persons receiving consideration. Assistant Secretary Esther Peterson, for the Cabinet vacancy, got a fast, strong endorsement from home state Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, as "the most capable perout for a soft drink served by Frankfurter's retirement and munications satellite system when one is developed has been settled, as far as the Kennedy administration and the 87th Congress are concerned.

The system will be under a new corporate entity so owned and controlled that it will be private enterprise subject to governmental control. It will be a form of legalized monopoly.

This means the socialist faction in Congress and the country which had looked upon a communications satellite system as another chance to put government into competition with its own citizens was routed.

The socializers will keep trying. They will find allies in strange places. Occasionally, allies they expected to find will not materialize. In the case of a communications satel-

The controversy over ownership of a com- lite system, they looked for allies in the labor unions and found none. But what they did not find there they thought they had found in some segments of private enterprise so jealous of the developers of the Telstar satellite they seemed capable of cutting their own throats to hurt a competitor.

> Passage of legislation that projects private enterprise and gives assurance the United States will stay out ahead in development of a communications satellite system is a significant development. Socalism has lost its drive in all places where it has been put into practice. It is semingly losing its drive in all places where it has been agitated, too. It has no influential backers in the United States-nothing but frustrated

Making Seat Belts Attractive

It seems absurd sometimes to pay attention to the importance of auto seat belts when professional and amateur race drivers are risking their lives and losing them in the name of sport. But out of much agitation nd discussion may come the change of mind and heart that someday will make auto seat belts as universal as safety glass.

The first step is being taken-state laws making seat belt fittings and belts mandatory. This was the lever with which the oldfashioned window-glass auto window was routed in favor of safety glass.

The second step is still potential - insurance regulations that would make it either impossible or prohibitively expensive to operate a car without equipment to hold passengers in their seats in the event of a collision.

Insurance companies may hold the ultimate

The third step is still potential too - improved designs that would eliminate the faults of equipment now in existence. Imporance resistance to safety glass developed when the first windows made of it became discolored. This was overcome later by glass that retained its clarity.

Whoever could design an auto seat belt that would enfold a passenger automatically, preferably by the shoulders instead of the waist. would not have to go to Detroit to attract attention. Detroit would be beating a path to his door; i.e., his auto door-the one that usually flies open in a collision, ejecting the unanchored occupants of the car and causing injury that could have been averted if they

Venus Closer Than We Think?

With no urging by rocketeers, but with learn through its instruments what Venus is great provocation, a space shot like the one that has just set us taxpayers back a few more million dollars makes us wonder about astronomical distances.

This shot was aimed at the vicinity of the planet Venus, which it may miss by as much as 600,000 miles or come as close to as 10,000 miles, depending on whether an inaccuracy in early flight can be corrected by remote control. The outcome will be known early in December.

Meanwhile, Venus will continue to shine evening and morning as the Evening Star and the Morning Star. And if the contraption known as Mariner 2 ever arrives where it is supposed to go, we earthlings may Courses leading to degrees in the Colleges of Arts and Sciences. Business Administration Education, and Fine and Professional Arts are available in the Kent State University Extension Center, to open next month at Salem Senior High School.

Already 65 have registered for the open ing of the 1962-63 term, taking advantage of a wonderful opportunity to get a start on a college education right here at home. Indications are that registration again tonight and finally Sept. 10 will equal the anticipated 200 enrollment when the KSU Center opens for first classes Sept. 19.

It is hoped, however, that more ambitious men and women with a thirst for knowledge will take advantage of the Kent evening classes. For those with personal doubts or problems, Kent officials are available for counseling, a service in itself that ought to be appreciated.

Inside Labor

HONOLULU

Before I sail east into the rising sun, I must tell you of Jimmy Hoffa's people going west in search of new horozins. Into every paradise a little rain must fall. So one day there came recently to Pago Pago - 2,300 miles southwest of Hoffa's lieu-

Pago Pago is the capital of American Somoa. This is a palm-studded set of seven islands. On them are some 20,000 Amercan nationals -mostly Polynesian. They are about 9,000 miles from another island of palms known as Puerto Rico. Now this is not an extraneous thought at all. The Teamsters have been spending hundreds of thousands of dollars trying to set up a powerful organization operating out of San Juan

And I personally take it that the adventuring of Mr. Hoffa's lieutenant in Samoa is of the essence of Jimmy's dreams of empire-vou know, the sun shall never set on it.

OR PERHAPS this is Hoffa's way of thumbing his thick thumb President Kennedy, Arthur Goldberg, George Meany, et. al. I'm certain Jimmy H. has heard of the table talk at a "social" luncheon the President gave to national labor leaders on Aug. 8. Hoffa's enemy in the Puerto Rican and Chicago sun, the Seafarers' Paul Hall, was there. He told JFK that he was spending considerable time fighting the Team-

AFL-CIO leader George Meany added that the battle against Hoffa was going well. Arthur Goldberg opined that Jimmy was Perhaps. But the bonds have not yet been slipped on sufficiently tight to keep Hoffa's empire builders from roaming the outer reaches of the United States.

I learned here that the latest of these foragings was made by Arthur Rutledge. He obviously must be among the wisest of the Teamsters. For he has chosen the island of Oahu, the city of Honolulu here, to be his headquarters.

This keeps him some 5,500 miles from the home office and gives him the entire Pacific in which to roam. And roam he does.

LEAVING THE OFFICE of Teamster Local 996, of whch he is president, he took off for Samoa about a month ago. He may have mixed a little pleasure with business. But he did survey the American outpost.

With Rutledge was Al Lolotai, described as prominent in Hawaii's Samoan community. Together wth Lolotai and John A. Burns, an adviser to the U.S. delegation to the South Pacific Commission sessions in Samoa, Rutledge met with Samoa governor, Rex Lee.

This should fascinate Secretary of the Interior Udall and President Kennedy. It is the Department of the Interior which names the governor of Samoa. The South Pacific Commission is named with White House approval. Somebody should send Pago Pago a full report of what Hoffa and company have been saying about the administration

By Victor Riesel

NONETHELESS, Hoffa's Mr. Rutledge, a crusty type chap, was well received by Samoa's officialdom. Once back in Honolulu, Rutledge made much of this trip and conference.

He told newsmen here that Samoa's Gov. Lee was quite genial. Rutledge said help is needed in educating these workers on what a union is, how it operates and what it can do. Brother Rutledge said the Teamsters are quite willing to help in this educational crusade.

It is not clear how Rutledge and his Teamsters will share their education with the Samoans.

As Rutledge put it: 'We have plans to establish communications and a measure of education through such communications and we hope to develop a program that would be acceptable to the governor."

FROM THIS Rutledge hopes to launch an organizing drive "at the right time"-especially among the territory's government

Mr Rutledge is a man of wide horizons. The Teamsters, for example, are apparently not entirely fulfilling. So he also is president of Local No. 5 here, Hotel and Restaurant Workers, AFL-CIIO.

This means that Rutledge holds two offices, runs a dual headquarters, and clearly places the hotel and restaurant workers international union in violation of AFL-CIO policy.

This is the pattern of the teamsters and hotel union joint operation in Puerto Rico. Fascinating, isn't it, that the teamsters should spend so much money island-hopping!

Dear Ann Landers: The man I loved passed away three months ago. He was married and had a family. I worked with this man for several years and even divorced my husband in the hope that he would free himself and marry me-but it never happened.

We spent four or five evenings a week together, so his wife must have known there was somebody else. We never discussed his home life. It was a forbidden subject. I lived one day at a time and was grateful for the hours we had together.

Had the vote in Congress gone the other way, the Communists would have gloated. For, in the Soviet Union, everything is owned by the government. The Soviets are taught that only the government can really perform economic tasks and that a systm of private profit is wrong.

In the United States, by the lates: vote in Congress on the bill that provides regulation for the whole Telstar operation as far as communications are concerned, private enterprise is selected because it is experienced, more efficient and better trained through its talented personnel to do an effective job.

Some of the champions of government ownership in their recent speeches in both houses of Congress declared that, since the project was so big and since it might involve relations with other governments in the making of communications agreements, the task should be wholly in the hands of the American govern-

The argument was made also that, since the government had spent a good deal of money in developing the vehicle used to launch the Telstar satellite, the "people" should own the whole communications project.

THERE ARE many things in America for which the government has at one time or another spent large sums, and yet this has not led to government ownership.

Also, the government once owned most of the land in the West, but it virtually gave away homesteads to attract settlers. Likewise, during wartime, enormous plants were built that became obsolete for military purposes. Aluminum plants and synthetic rubber plants which cost many millions were sold for relatively low prices to private companies, some of which thereby got their chance to become big and and successful competitors of existing companies in the same line

The new measure, which has gone through both houses and shortly will be signed by a sympathetic president, gives the public an opportunity to invest in the new corporation. Only half of the stock is to be held by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company - otherwise ki:own as "The Bell System" and by other communications companies. THE COMMUNICATIONS companies, such as the AT&T, the Radio Corp. of Amer., and the Western Union Telegraph Co .all of which are privately owned -have managed under this plan to make America's communications facilities the very best in the world.

While the Bell System is the largest of the telephone systems, there are 3,040 independent telephone companies in various parts of the United States owning 15 per cent of all telephones.

The Bell System, moreover, like the others in the communications business, is not owned by a single interest. It has more than 2.2 million stockholders, and more than 350,000 of these are employes of the company.

Government-operated projects are devoid of s ch motive, and this is often revealed as a serious weakness.

THE NEW TELSTAR project may or may not yield profits to the investors. There is no certainty that communication to other points on earth through outer space will be as economical as by cables under the seas or by radio through the atmosphere. But that is why the name "risk capital" has arisen. Investors do take risks, but they may be rewarded with good profits if the enterprises are successful. Efficiency of service and good dividends usually have been a characteristic of private enterprise, and today there are many millions of citizens who have put their savings into enterprises of all kinds.

This is "people's capitalism," and, despite the tirades by Nikita Khrushchev and other Communists who inveigh constantly against "capitalistic" countries. the system has proved successful in bringing the maximum good to the maximum number of people.

Hints From By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: I make pillow linen tablecloths or runners. cases from my worn out sheets. As you know, the center of the sheet always wears out and the hem ends are usually okay. I measure along the hem edges for the width, then I measure down the selvedge edge for the length. Then I snip the mark on the selvedge and then tear across the sheet. Providing the grain runs true . . . I can fold this piece in half crosswise. Sew across the bottom and up one side. I have a pillow case. I do the same with the bottom hem of the sheet.

Bell Service To Switch To Dial Operation

The first nation-wide dial conversion in telephone history will take place at 9:30 p.m., EDT. Friday when the Bell System's entire teletypewriter exchange service (TWX) is changed from manual to dial operation, Ohio Bell Commercial Manager William J. McKay said there are 9 TWX machines in service in this area. Modification of equipment on each customer's premises has been completed so that the change from manual to dial operation for each machine can be carried out by the throw of a switch at the keyboard position the first time the machine it used after he cutover hour.

What To Feed Hubby's Boss

When it's time to ask your husband's boss and his wife to dinner, what to serve?

A dish that is interesting but safe. Unless you are sure of your guests' tastes, this is definitely not the moment to offer something offbeat.

The chances are that nothing will be amiss if you choose a main course from classic European cuisine - something that has appealed to a wide variety of diners through the years.

Chicken is always safe, and it can be interesting. Take the following recipe adapted from the Spanish cuisine. Guests usually enjoy a whole chicken breast, offering plenty of meat, plus a delicately flavored sauce that includes seedless grapes. The grapes, by the way, are used in much the same way in a classic French chicken dish.

If you plan a rich dessert, be sure to have fruit - and perhaps cheese and crackers - on hand. This advice was not always necessary, but nowadays weightwatchers are omnipresent. Then if a calorie-counter gives in to temptation, that's his or her af-

Pre-Schooler May Be Whiz In World of Ideas

He's not old enough to write his name. Reading is way beyond him. But long before he acquires these skills, he may be a whiz in the world of ideas.

You may find this out by judicious use of the word "why."

Pre-schoolers aren't inhibited by facts and traditional ways of thinking, says Mrs. Charlotte B. Winsor, who teaches teachers at the Bank Street College of Education in New York.

But parents often underestimate the ability of their youngsters to reason. Because they have no book learning, parents figure they can't think.

This cart-before-the-horse approach should be reversed, she feels. "Young children can be given the foundations of knowledge, and fill in with the facts later. But it takes a sensitive ear to recognize that a child is uttering a profound truth."

She cites the comment of a 5 year-old who had discovered a map of the United States: "It's so hard to imagine the world

This is the moment to take advantage of the child's awareness with a follow-through conversation. she suggests finding places on the map whose names he's heard, explaining that this is only the map of his country, and enlarging on his awareness of space.

This way, he's learning geography long before he can read or draw maps.

Mrs. Winsor says:

Strategic use of the question "why" by a sensitized parent helps expose the kind of reasoning his youngster is doing, and keeps the parent abreast of the child. An authoritarian parent who "knows better" can't relax enough to set up this communication, and consequently underrates

Teachers too are prone to tell the child what to do, rather than letting his comments open up a discussion for the entire class. They're unnerved if the remark can't be put into the slot of usual class activity. But actually, they'll make fuure learning more speedy if they stimulate the child's thinking at the moment he's ready for it.

George Steinbrenner announced was reached with Lucas last Monthat his Pipers will not play this day, "but we haven't had time letics, limited Los Angeles Angels 9-3, .750; McBride, Los Angeles, season. Lucas held a two - year yet to put it on paper."

but said Lucas would get "well over $140,000, probably play next season (1963-64) in the NBA and start a public relations job with MINOR LEAGUE RESULTS my firm before Christmas."

Lucas has two goals--to finish school and to play basketball here. He wants to make Cleveland his home. His schooling will end m December.

Marks said he didn't consider the agreement with Lucas a gamble "because we consider Jerry a bright young man who can help us in several fields. He can help us in the operation of the arena and in the establisment of a solid basketball program here."

He said Lucas would make public appearances, work on ticket sales, scout players and help organize a team for 1963, assuming Cleveland gets an NBA franchise.
